Thoughts for Prayer SHALOM

If we sincerely and wholeheartedly follow Jesus and his way of holiness, justice and peace, we will be saving ourselves by accepting unconditionally the salvation which he won for us “through his wounds”.

When Peter said to the crowds at Pentecost, “Save yourselves from this perverse generation,” he was using a phrase that Jesus had already used, when he reacted to the demand of the Pharisees and the Sadducees for a sign from heaven: “It is an evil and unfaithful generation that asks for a sign!” (Mt 16:4) In another context, Jesus laments about himself rather than the shepherds who were concerned only about themselves rather than the sheep. If we, keeping this in mind, read the all the readings of today that speak of a shepherd, we get to know rightly who Jesus is ‘good shepherd,’ we get to know rightly who Jesus is ‘good shepherd,’ who is prepared to lay down His life for others so that they can have life in all its fullness.

Israel was expecting, at least from the time of Ezekie, a messiah who would not be like the shepherds who were concerned only about themselves rather than the sheep. If we, keeping this in mind, read the all the readings of today that speak of a shepherd, we get to know rightly who Jesus is ‘good shepherd,’ who is prepared to lay down His life for others so that they can have life in all its fullness.

Lord Jesus, through Your wounds, keep us free from the sin of the world and lead us to the fullness of life.
