Thoughts for Prayer SHALOM

A young person is at a critical moment of his life. He had discerned that it is time to accept the invitation to grace, leave his quiet security and take up a ministry of professing God’s love for his people.

Today’s first reading is about spiritual liberation. This freedom allows us to see God’s renewed relationship with us and generates in us a desire to want to enter into that relationship. In faith and with discernment, Jesus the Nazarene makes a conscious decision to enter into this renewed relationship with God, symbolized by receiving baptism. When coming up out of the water Jesus receives an indelible confirmation from the Father and the Spirit. The knowledge of who he is – his identity – provides the key to an understanding of his ministry to profess God’s forgiving and saving love. Jesus will be faithful to God with the faithfulness of God’s own Son. Today we celebrate the baptism of the Lord.

May we be granted the grace to enter into this loving relationship with the Triune God and have life, through baptism and believing and following Jesus Christ, Son of God.

Today, the heavens are opened and God is revealed as Trinity. But most of all, it is a special day for Jesus. As he crosses the Jordan of his life, his mission enters a new phase. Until now, he has been living as the ideal child, obedient to his parents, growing in wisdom and stature. Henceforth, he will assume his role on the stage of history as the one who will truly open the heavens and reunite heaven with earth. With him is the Spirit, anointing him with the gifts and graces, he will need for his ministry. Today is, therefore, the day on which Jesus is revealed as the Christ – the Anointed One, the Messiah, the Beloved Son of God. Led by the Spirit, Jesus will vanquish Satan in the desert and in the streets of Galilee and Judea, and the greatest victory of all will be on the cross, when by his obedience, he will reverse the original disobedience that brought death into the world.
