The great graces of faith, hope and love keep alive and foster the joy of Easter.

A week has passed since we celebrated the great feast of Easter Sunday. Time passes, and we are moving slowly towards the next great feast, the feast of Pentecost, when we celebrate the coming of the Holy Spirit. Time passes, but the joy of Easter should never pass: each time we are moving slowly towards the next great feast, the feast of Pentecost, when we celebrate the mystery of faith and God’s divine mercy.

In the Eucharist, we receive the sacrament of the Body and Blood of Jesus, and so are more closely united with his Mystical Body and the Church, both in a visible communal manner as we participate in the community celebration, but also in a mystical manner in the depths of our heart and soul. Mysticism is the fullness of faith, hope and love. Therefore as well as celebrating the mystery of faith, we celebrate the sacrament of love and we celebrate the feast of all our Christians. The great graces of faith, hope and love keep alive and foster the joy of Easter.

Lord Jesus, in the Eucharist draw us closer to you so that we will know you more clearly, love you more dearly, follow you more closely and so continuously live the joy of the Resurrection.
